Behavioral Health Services for

Purpose and Intent

The purpose of this directory is to provide Pediatricians and other health care practitioners in private practice with listing of licensed practitioners in Bergen County that provide behavioral health services designed to address the needs of children, adolescents, and their families.

The intent of this Directory is to link Pediatricians and other health care clinicians with licensed Behavioral health clinicians if a patient is identified at-risk during routine visits.

The consequences of untreated and under-identified behavioral health disorders in childhood and Adolescence is well documented and is a contributing factor for; substance use during adulthood including during pregnancy; Postpartum Depression, Post Traumatic Stress Disorder, Anxiety, Depression, Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorders, Fetal Alcohol Syndrome, Somatic Symptoms, self mutilation, suicidal ideations, and other related disorders.

The behavioral health private practitioners and agencies listed in this directory were identified through the New Jersey Department of Consumer Affairs/New Jersey Board of Examiners that provided a list of licensed practitioners primarily located in Bergen County. License numbers and expiration dates are on file.

*Regional Perinatal
Addiction Prevention Project*

Community-based approaches are utilized daily throughout the country in an effort to prevent untreated mental health disorders, long term substance use, and domestic violence throughout a persons lifetime.

In an effort to address prevention issues on a local level, therapists in private practice throughout Northern New Jersey were invited to attend Networking Meetings. As a result of these meetings, the Committee identified several community needs and strategies to address early identification of persons at-risk for behavioral health disorders, including the following:

1. In order to help prevent mental health, substance abuse, and domestic violence throughout a person's lifetime, early intervention was identified as essential.
2. Children and adolescents exhibiting early behavioral and emotional symptoms are frequently not identified and referred to a behavioral health clinician for an assessment. As a result, children may appear later into care frequently exhibiting severe symptoms, including school phobias, depression, anxiety, substance use, self mutilation, behavioral problems, suicide ideations/attempts, etc.
3. A common belief still exists that behavioral or emotional symptoms that children present with will disappear in time, further causing a delay in treatment.
4. Parents will often deny a problem exists unless the healthcare provider or education system explains their concerns and recommends an assessment or treatment.
5. An increased number of families are now facing unemployment, a drop in medical benefits, inability to meet mortgage or rental payments, food, etc.
6. For persons that speak a language other than English, behavioral health services are lacking and frequently difficult to locate.
7. Publicly funded mental health and substance abuse agencies have long waiting lists.
8. Physicians face increasing pressures to comply with insurance company requirements limiting the time and attention they can devote to patients to help determine underlying issues.
9. Physicians are often not trained to identify and address behavioral health needs during routine visits..

Recommendations

1. Develop a listing of local resources that physicians, nurse practitioners, midwives and other health care providers in private practice can easily access in order to refer children and adolescents presenting with emotional and/or behavioral health signs and symptoms including; anxiety, depression, eating disorders, ADHD, self-mutilation, etc.
2. Offer educational presentations regarding the signs and symptoms of behavioral health issues to physicians, midwives, and nurse practitioners during Grand Rounds and other learning forums.
3. Make available a list of behavioral health screening tools physicians, midwives, and nurse practitioners can easily integrate into their practice.
4. Provide on-site training to physicians, midwives, and nurse practitioners in their private offices.
5. Provide telephone consultations to physicians and nurse practitioners by licensed therapists.
6. Provide community-based presentations to families to help diminish the stigma of seeking behavioral health h services for their children.
